KEYES QUIT COLD IN ATLANTIC CRUISE BOUT WITH STINGER TO END WITH RACES

Acre A. C. last night.

and had also fouled him again by hit-ting him after the bell had sounded owners of large yachts interested in at the end of the above mentioned round. As he refused to go on for the fifth round and demanded that his man-ager take off his gloves the 1,100 spectators present became so disgusted that they left the club-house.

Up to the time that Keyes stopped he had all the best of the bout, and besides had the good wishes of the crowd, who were anxious to see him win out. It certainly is a pity that Keyes quit as he did. He is too good a fighter and besides too modest a boy to lose the good will of the local sporting men, His claim that he was struck low twice by Stinger might be a just one, but when a fighter who is hit in the groin World, Pulstzer Building, Park Row, twice comes out in the following round and sails into an opponent and lands some terrific blows in his stomach and on his jaw, and also rushes his man all around the ring, it hardly seems possible that foul blows could have been landed.

Bert Keyes, the little Quaker City feather-weight, who was one of the most popular pugilists that ever climbed into a ring at any of the boxing clubs in this vicinity, made the most serious mistake of his fighting career when he foolishly quit at the end of the fourth round of his bout with Kid Stinger, of round of his bout with Kid Stinger, of Club, of this city, to join in the cruise, Philadelphia, at the stag of the Long which gives the event prominence as one of the most important of local Acre A. C. last night.

Keyes elsimed that Stinger had twice yachting features of the season.

Difficulty in avoiding conflicting dates fouled birn by hitting him low punches, caused the Regutta Committee some order to schedule an ocean race to follow the cruise. This matter now ap

FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

$3.50 Derbies for Men at $1.85

The man who made the hats has earned much fame and more dollars by withholding his brand from every hat that showed the slightest flaw. We were glad to accept the hats at about half the standard price, since we could not find but one Flawed hat out of ten. Nor can you. But you can find the reason why the standard price is three-fifty. All the new spring models in black.

FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

$1 and $1.25 Gloves for Men at 75c

When you contemplate the flighty state of the glove market, this offer means more than the price concessions suggest. Two styles, one of cape leather, prix seam, the other of kid, over seam, both with one clasp, in shades of tan.

Distinctive Suits for Young Men At $15.00.

If "all-wool" and such threadbare reasons end the argument, we have not even a struggling chance. Any shop can give you a suit at fifteen dollars that ends there. It is what we give you beyoud that which makes our suits at fifteen dollars worth the price and perhaps a little more—tailor-ing which expresses the regorous style, the innovations and the little knacks that should identify a garment designed specifically for young men.

Long Single and Double Breasted Models with all the season's kinks, such as false vents, deep lapels and kindred marks of distinctiveness, fashioned of various fabrics in plaids, stripes, mixtures and plain colors.
